Boutique Manufacturer of Luxury Door, Cabinet & Window Hardware

For decades, Brassart has been crafting luxury architectural hardware for some of the world's most exceptional spaces — from prestigious private residences and boutique hotels to heritage buildings, flagship retail environments, and contemporary architectural projects.

Based in England and established in 1935, we combine traditional British craftsmanship with modern engineering to create finely made hardware for doors, cabinets, windows, and electrical applications. Our collections are designed to complement a wide range of architectural styles, from classic period properties and listed buildings to refined contemporary interiors.

Every piece is made from the finest materials and finished by hand, ensuring the highest standards of quality, durability, and design. Manufactured and assembled at our facilities in the heart of the Black Country near Birmingham our products reflect generations of specialist knowledge and a dedication to detail.

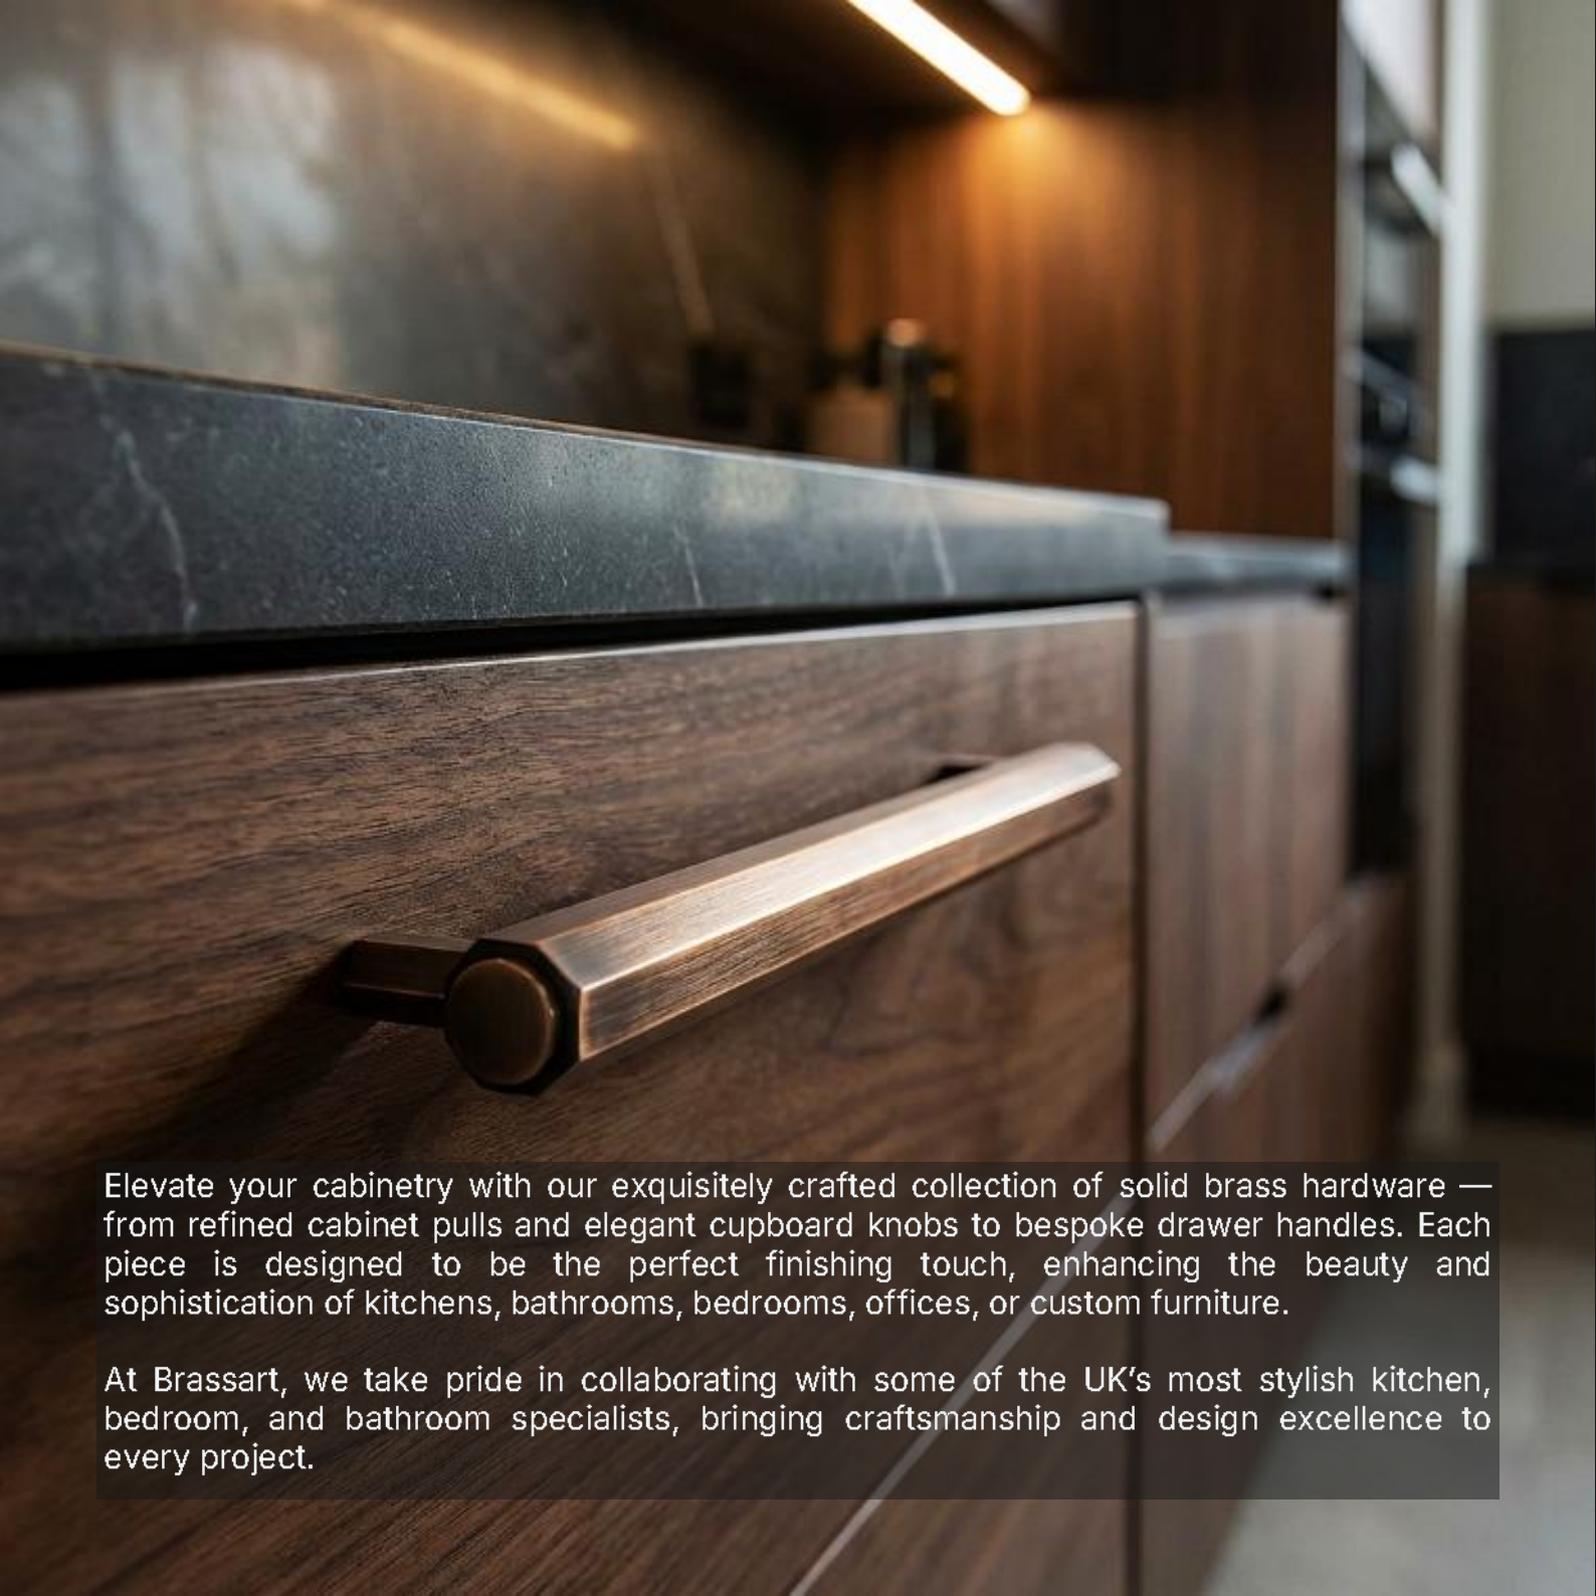

Alongside our extensive catalogue of designs, Brassart offers a bespoke design and manufacturing service, allowing architects, designers, and clients to create truly individual hardware tailored to their vision. Whether restoring historic architecture or completing a modern interior, we provide the finishing touches that bring a project together.

Our aim is simple: to produce beautifully crafted architectural hardware that enhances the character of every space it inhabits.

Cabinet Hardware

Elevate your cabinetry with our exquisitely crafted collection of solid brass hardware — from refined cabinet pulls and elegant cupboard knobs to bespoke drawer handles. Each piece is designed to be the perfect finishing touch, enhancing the beauty and sophistication of kitchens, bathrooms, bedrooms, offices, or custom furniture.

At Brassart, we take pride in collaborating with some of the UK's most stylish kitchen, bedroom, and bathroom specialists, bringing craftsmanship and design excellence to every project.

Door Levers

Our luxury door handles are crafted to complement a wide range of architectural styles, from sleek contemporary interiors to timeless period spaces. Each design balances elegance and functionality, providing a subtle yet distinctive detail that enhances the character of every door it adorns.

With a versatile selection of finishes and styles, our handles offer the freedom to tailor your interior with thoughtful, high-quality hardware — creating cohesive, beautifully considered spaces that reflect your design vision.

Centre Door knobs

Our elegant center door knobs are designed to make a statement, offering a refined, yet bold finishing touch for any entrance. Available in a range of sizes — including options for custom oversized doors — they bring proportion, balance, and presence to any entrance.

Available in a selection of exclusive finishes, these knobs are as versatile as they are beautiful, seamlessly complementing a variety of architectural styles. A front door knob is more than just hardware; it sets the tone for the home and creates a memorable first impression.

Door Pull Handles

Our collection of door pull handles combine striking design with versatile functionality, making them a statement feature in any interior or exterior space. Available in a range of lengths - including impressive sizes for grand entrances. Finished in our exclusive palette, these handles can complement a wide variety of architectural styles and applications

Perfect for high-end residential, hospitality, commercial, and retail settings, our pull handles are designed to make an impact while remaining effortlessly elegant. Each design can be tailored to suit the proportions of any space, ensuring a harmonious and considered finish.

Entrance Door Accessories

Front door hardware is more than just handles and knobs — it's the finishing detail that defines the entrance to a home. Our collection of drop knockers, ring knockers, doorbells, letter plates, and cylinder pulls are thoughtfully designed to complement our luxury handles and elegant knobs, creating a cohesive and sophisticated look.

Each piece is crafted to enhance both style and presence, allowing every entrance to make a lasting impression. As security and functionality remain paramount, our range continues to evolve, offering versatile solutions without compromising on design. For bespoke requirements or unique details, our team is always on hand to help bring your vision to life.

Crittall Door Hardware

Our collection of hardware for steel, aluminium, and Crittall-style doors offers a refined alternative to standard fittings, bringing the elegance and craftsmanship of British-made hardware to metal-framed doors.

Engineered with precision for slim-frames, often used in fire-rated applications, each piece combines durability with sophisticated design. Our range is available in a variety of finishes, allowing you to tailor each detail to complement the style and character of your space.

Electrical Hardware

Brassart offers a comprehensive range of solid brass hardware designed to bring cohesion and refinement to every interior detail. Our collection extends beyond door furniture to include premium switches, sockets, fused spurs and complementary electrical accessories — all meticulously crafted to the same exacting standards of quality and finish.

Engineered to suit a wide range of applications and compatible with plug types across different regions, our hardware ensures seamless integration in projects worldwide. Every piece is available in our full suite of signature finishes, allowing complete design continuity throughout luxury residential and commercial spaces.

Bespoke Hardware

For generations, Brassart has been celebrated worldwide for our authentic British craftsmanship, iconic design, and originality. Today, much of our work continues to focus on creating bespoke, tailored pieces that meet the unique vision of each client.

Whether it's a private home requiring a distinctive detail, a designer brand commissioning a statement piece of hardware, or a prestigious hospitality venue seeking a luxurious finishing touch, we bring the same dedication, precision, and creativity to every project — and nothing is beyond our capabilities.
