Boutique Manufacturer of Luxury Door, Cabinet & Window Hardware

For decades, Brassart has specialised in the design and manufacture of contemporary solid brass door hardware for some of the most discerning residential and architectural projects around the world. Our products are perfectly suited for private residences, boutique hotels, high-end hospitality environments and many other design-led interiors where quality, material integrity, and refined design are essential.

Established in England in 1935, Brassart combines traditional British craftsmanship with modern manufacturing techniques to produce exceptional door hardware. Each piece is crafted from solid brass, chosen for its strength, longevity and distinctive character, and designed to elevate contemporary architecture and interior design.

The Liberty range of architectural ironmongery is a refined interpretation of the Art Nouveau style, characterised by its fluid, organic lines and elegant, flowing forms. Drawing on the movement's emphasis on nature-inspired motifs and rhythmic, sinuous detailing, the collection includes door handles, pull handles, escutcheons and accessories, all crafted from high-grade solid brass and available in a wide range of bespoke finishes. Designed to recreate authentic period aesthetics while remaining suitable for contemporary interiors, the Liberty range combines decorative sophistication with precision engineering, making it particularly suited to heritage restorations and high-end design schemes.

Our aim is simple: to create contemporary solid brass door knobs made in the UK that combine enduring materials, precision engineering, and understated design.
